Campus Life

One of the most unique features of CCMU is an all in one campus life.

The main and auxiliary campuses consist of approximately 3,300 acres of land.

The newly built (for Beijing Olympics) international school campus has the dorms equivalent to a 4 star hotel accommodations. We have a Million plus books in our student resource center with 8000 newly published research papers of our own faculty.

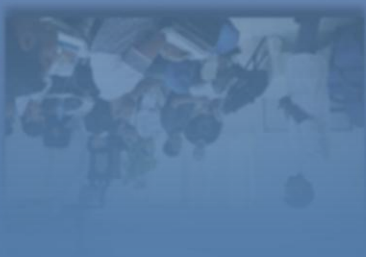

We understand that life is more than books and exams, so the management has made a concerted effort of creating sports courts, play grounds and the lobby café.

This is all a part and parcel of providing students with a youth friendly environment.

Students are empowered to create athletic activities such as social, entertainment, and even technology "genius" clubs. We encourage our students to practice and demonstrate their regional and cultural activities. Everyone gets involved in celebrations as a big happy family. Our campus life is a redefinition of the term, "United Nations".
